

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

Detecting and/or measuring a chemical substance, such as explosives or poison gases, using a change in a property
5 of light passing through a microsphere of a sensor. Since the microsphere has a large quality factor, the sensor is extremely sensitive. The sensor includes the microsphere coupled with at least one optical fiber. The surface of the microsphere includes receptors complementary to the 10 chemical substance.